DIVORCE

OVERVIEW

Divorce can be an emotionally charged, confusing time for people. At Hellmuth & Johnson we pride ourselves in providing our clients with sound, levelheaded legal counsel through all aspects of the divorce process. Our attorneys know that even the simplest divorces need to be handled carefully.

We handle divorce-related matters that include:

- Child Custody Agreements & Parenting Plans
- Calculating Child Support Payments
- Spousal Support/Alimony Agreements
- Division of Assets under both Minnesota and Wisconsin Statutes
- High-Asset Divorce Matters
- Complicated Marital Property Division
- Divorces involving Small-Business Ownership Interests
- Modification and Enforcement of Existing Orders

In all of the divorce cases we handle, we are cost-conscious and efficient. Whenever possible, we resolve our clients' divorce-related disputes through settlement negotiations or mediation exercises. This saves time, cost and stress while giving you more control over the results of your divorce disputes.

Your divorce impacts many other areas of your life, and we help you strategize for any challenges and changes you may face. Our law firm has experience with real estate issues and tax implications as well as business litigation. Though we exclusively practice family law now, our past experience helps us give you the comprehensive support you need to get through your divorce.

When you work with our attorneys, we will sit down with you and discuss a cost-benefit analysis for your options involving all aspects of divorce law, including child custody, child support, property division and other issues that may arise. It is important to choose your battles carefully, with full knowledge of the long-term costs that these battles will present.

Our attorneys will guide you through the emotional storm of divorce with a calm and focused perspective. Your divorce is not a static event. Afterward, your life will continue to change, and crafting proper and flexible settlement agreements can help you adapt to your new situation. It is our goal to prepare you for the road ahead.
