

NICOLE L. RASH
ATTORNEY AT LAW

nrash@hjlawfirm.com
Direct : (952) 746-2150

OVERVIEW

Nicole Rash is an associate attorney in Hellmuth & Johnson's cannabis law practice group. Having worked in a boutique firm, provides the personalized attention of a small firm combined with the resources of a larger firm. With multiple years of practice in Washington State, she has helped a wide range of clients, from mom-and-pop shops to large corporate hemp and cannabis clients, with their business transactional work. From inception to maintaining brand recognition through registered trademarks to even a successful sale, Nicole is there for every stage of a business's life.

In the cannabis industry, every situation is unique, so each case requires careful and innovative handling. Nicole ensures her clients are compliant while achieving their goals. Her practice specializes in advising and guiding clients through their business plans and developments in the cannabis sector. Whether they are growers or retailers, Nicole ensures that clients are confident and prepared for the legalization of the recreational cannabis market.

EXPERIENCE

Cannabis Industry Experience (Seattle, WA)

- Assisted cannabis business owners with business plans and registrations
- Worked on cannabis trademarks and IP portfolios
- Helped in cannabis litigation and violations
- Seattle University School of Law Trademark Clinic

AFFILIATIONS

- American Indian Law Journal (Seattle University School of Law) editor
- Cannabis Law Society Treasurer (Seattle University)
- Seattle University School of Law Trademark Clinic

COMMUNITY

- Helped start Thai Cultural nonprofit in the Twin Cities

PRACTICE AREA

ADMISSIONS

Washington State Courts

EDUCATION

Seattle University School of Law, J.D., 2023

University of Minnesota, B.A., 2018

Lindenwood University, 2014